Welcome to the New York State Children and Youth with Special Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Resource Directory!

This directory lists resources for children and youth with special health care needs (CYSHCN), as well as their advocates, caregivers, families, and providers. The New York State Department of Health (NYS DOH) defines CYSHCN as people from birth to 21 years old who require extra health care and support services because of developmental, emotional, intellectual, learning, medical and/or physical conditions. Resources in this directory are specific to the state of New York. The NYS DOH is committed to the well-being of CYSHCN and their support networks. If you have up-to-date information on a resource or if you would like to add a resource to this directory, please visit our Resource Referral Portal (https://airtable.com/shrkMnVBdLJTryIVP).

This directory is funded by the NYS DOH and the resources are maintained (through September 2024) by the three NYS University Centers for Excellence on Developmental Disabilities (UCEDDs). The three UCEDDs are as follows:

The Rose F. Kennedy (RFK) Center at Einstein/Montefiore

The Strong Center at the University of Rochester

The Westchester Institute for Human Development (WIHD).

Regional Resource Guide
of the Children and Youth with Special Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency New York State Department of Health Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program

Agency Description: Studies show that no amount of lead exposure is safe for children. Lead is a metal that can harm children when it gets into their bodies. Lead can harm a young child's growth, behavior, and ability to learn. It can also cause anemia, kidney damage, and hearing loss. There are many sources of lead. Lead can be found in dust, air, water, soil, and in some products used in and around our homes.

Children younger than six years old are more likely to get lead poisoning than any other age group. Most often, children get lead poisoning from breathing in or swallowing dust from old lead paint. It can be found on floors and windowsills, hands, and toys. Lead can also be passed from pregnant person to baby during pregnancy.

Although lead poisoning is preventable, lead continues to be a major cause of poisoning among

New York State Department of Health Asthma Program

Regional Resource Guide
of the Children and Youth with Special Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency New York State Department of Health Asthma Program

Agency Description: Asthma is a chronic disease of the lungs. In New York State (NYS), more than 1.4 million adults have asthma 1. Asthma occurs at any age but is more common in children than adults. Nationally, nearly one in 13 school-age children have asthma, and that rate is rising more rapidly in preschool-aged children and those living in urban inner cities than in any other group. Although there is no cure for asthma, asthma attacks can be prevented and controlled with proper care. New York is actively working with health care providers, community coalitions, schools, families and many others to fight asthma so people with asthma can live a full and active life.

This web site is designed to provide accurate, current and useful information for people with asthma and for the people who care for them. New resources will be added often. Please check back frequently.

Regional Resource Guide
of the Children and Youth with Special Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency Centers for Disease Control and Prevention: Caring for Children and Youth with Special Healthcare Needs in Emergencies Toolkit

Agency Description: All children have unique needs in emergencies, but care for children with special healthcare needs is often more complex because of their various health conditions and extra care requirements. They may have a hard time moving from one place to another, urgent or constant medical needs, difficulty communicating or have trouble with transitioning to different situations. A disaster can present all these difficulties at once. Knowing what to do can help maintain calm and keep your family safe.

of the Children and Youth with Special Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency Emergency Medical Services for Children -Be Ready: Tips for Families of Children and Youth with Special Healthcare Needs

Agency Description: Families with children and youth with disabilities and medical needs are known to be some of the most vulnerable in a disaster. These families have fewer resources, and they require both community and health care provider support to achieve readiness.

When these families are disaster ready, they are less likely to suffer adverse consequences and are more resilient. The following toolkit of videos and accompanying infographics have been designed to meet to the diverse needs of the communities we serve.

New York State Department of Health Medicaid

Regional Resource Guide
of the Children and Youth with Special Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency New York State Department of Health Medicaid

Agency Description: New York's Medicaid program provides comprehensive health coverage to more than 7.3 million lower-income New Yorkers (as of December, 2021.) Medicaid pays for a wide-range of services, depending on your age, financial circumstances, family situation, or living arrangements. These services are provided through a large network of health care providers that you can access directly using your Medicaid card or through your managed care plan if you are enrolled in managed care. Some services may have small co-payments, which can be waived if you cannot afford them.

Agency Description: The Community Place of Greater Rochester, Inc.(CPGR) is a nonprofit agency founded on the belief that everyone should enjoy the same health, economic, and social opportunities no matter who they are or where they live. Born from the merger of the Lewis Street Center, Genesee Settlement House and Eastside Community Center; The Community Place serves residents of Northeast Rochester. We deliver a wide range of social, developmental, and educational programs delivered through our facilities in the northeast sector of the city of Rochester (NY) and throughout the greater Rochester area. We are a leading neighborhood-based community center, providing a foundation for growth, empowerment and stability for those we serve. The Community Place is proud to continue the legacy built by its former organizations and continue the settlement house movement in Rochester. We invite you to learn more about the programs and services we provide to the people of Rochester—from children and teenagers to families and seniors to individuals with developmentally disabilities.

Regional Resource Guide
of the Children and Youth with Special Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency Skating Association for the Blind and Handicapped

Agency Description: As we celebrate our 47th season of serving those in our community challenged by disability, SABAH continues to be dedicated to the mission of enriching the quality of life for individuals challenged by physical, cognitive, and/or emotional disability by providing education and therapeutic recreation, promoting fitness, and developing social and communication skills. Although the organization began as one which provided adaptive ice skating for those with special needs over the winter, SABAH now offers six year round programs, on ice and on turf, for more than 830 participants. With the support of more than 500 remarkable volunteers from this region, SABAH has expanded programming to increase the physical activity and wellness of those we serve.

The partnership between Rotary and the Dodge Pond Camp of St. Lawrence NYSARC is long-standing. The Watertown Rotary Clubs began supporting Dodge Pond some 20 years ago with the establishment of a one week camp for children with disabilities from Jefferson County. St. Lawrence County Rotary clubs joined the effort in 1998 when Rotarian Dave Mance, from Watertown traveled and met with clubs in St. Lawrence County with the idea of establishing a second week of camp for children with disabilities from St Lawrence County. Currently the Rotary Clubs of Watertown, Theresa, Canton, Massena, Ogdensburg, and Potsdam provide annual support to Dodge Pond Camp – both financial and

of the Children and Youth with Special
Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency NYFSC Respite Care Program

Agency Description: NYFSC social workers visit seniors and their caregivers to assess the need for short-term in-home care. Once identified, a trained and Certified Home Health Aide is carefully screened, selected and assigned to provide personal care and hygiene, light housekeeping, shopping and cooking, laundry, escorting and companionship. While ensuring that the frail elderly receive consistent care that enables them to remain as safe and independent as possible in their own homes, Home Health Aides also provide much-needed breaks for caregivers. Care recipients and/or caregivers pay their Home Health Aides directly. By so doing, respite care Home Health Aides provide relief for caregivers and a continuum of care for the frail elderly, allowing them to remain as safely and independently as possible in their own homes. The program's professional staff coordinates respite care services for hundreds of seniors and their caregivers annually.

Agency YAI- Mainstreaming At Camp (MAC) Program

Agency Description: MAC (Mainstreaming at Camp) is a recreational summer camp program where the focus is having fun in a supportive and inclusive residential camp setting. MAC is run in partnership with Frost Valley YMCA, one of the nation's largest residential summer camps.

Frost Valley YMCA and YAI are leaders in their fields and are able to bring together neurodiverse children and young adults (with and without developmental disabilities), in a way it does not happen anywhere else.

Campers in the MAC program are included in the larger camp population, while still maintaining a camaraderie and pride in their villages. Within the MAC villages, there is a ratio of 3:1 (camper:staff) maintained at all times. This allows for additional support with ADLs (activities of daily living),

Camp Ramapo

Regional Resource Guide
of the Children and Youth with Special
Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency Camp Ramapo

Agency Description: Ramapo's mission is to keep young people from being relegated to the margins of their schools, programs, families, or communities because of challenging behaviors, cognitive disabilities, or other differences. We do this by offering the adults in their lives a new lens through which to view challenging behaviors, and presenting a set of techniques and tools that, when mastered, enable adults to meet children's needs and create nurturing environments in which all children can thrive.

Regional Resource Guide
of the Children and Youth with Special Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency Burton Blatt Institute- Syracuse University

Agency Description: Insight Innovation Impact: Advancing the civic, economic, and social participation of people with disabilities through research, policy, and practice.

Given the strong ties between one's ability to earn income and fully participate in their communities, BBI's work focuses on two interconnected Innovation Areas: Economic Participation and Community Participation. Through innovative program development, cutting-edge research, and policy guidance in these Innovation Areas, BBI advances the full inclusion of people with disabilities in a global society. BBI believes full community inclusion does not only mean living in the community, but also that people with disabilities have opportunities to be "of the community"—to live in their communities with the rights, privileges, and opportunities that any other citizen may enjoy. BBI works with and in communities, nationally and worldwide, to improve opportunities for economic and community

NYC Department of Social Services: LGBTQIA+ Policies

Regional Resource Guide
of the Children and Youth with Special Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency NYC Department of Social Services: LGBTQIA+ Policies

Agency Description: DSS/HRA seeks to ensure that all people are able to access our services in a respectful and affirming manner. Discrimination based on sexual orientation, transgender status, or intersex status often affects employment, housing, family support, medical care, and the ability to meet basic survival needs.

For this reason, Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Questioning, and Intersex (LGBTQI) people have been identified as a vulnerable population, which may be disproportionately likely to live in poverty, and need access to public benefits. Accordingly, the DSS/HRA has created an initiative under the Office of Client Advocacy and Access to identify and address the unique needs of LGBTQI communities.

The goals of DSS/HRA's LGBTQI Affairs work are as follows:

Proud & Supported: Rights and Respect Toolkit

Regional Resource Guide
of the Children and Youth with Special Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency Proud & Supported: Rights and Respect Toolkit

Agency Description: Proud & Supported is a project to support LGBTQ+ people with intellectual and developmental disabilities. LGBTQ+ stands for lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer/questioning, and more.

We called the project Proud and Supported. Because we want LGBTQ+ people with intellectual and developmental disabilities to feel proud of who they are. Proud to be a self-advocate, and proud to be part of the LGBTQ+ community. We want everyone to feel supported. Supported as a self-advocate, and supported as a LGBTQ+ person. That is our goal.

The Rights & Respect Toolkit will talk about:
What are my legal rights?
Why is fighting for rights important?

OPWDD LGBTQIA+ Training Curriculum

Regional Resource Guide
of the Children and Youth with Special
Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency OPWDD LGBTQIA+ Training Curriculum

Agency Description: OPWDD recognizes the importance of each person's rights, including the right to be given respect and dignity, to not be deprived of any civil or legal right solely because of a diagnosis of a developmental disability, and to express sexuality as limited by one's consensual ability to do so, among others (see 14 NYCRR 633.4).

Historically, people with developmental disabilities have been denied the right to express their sexuality or non-conforming gender identity due to societal misconceptions or unaccepting attitudes. To shift to a more supportive and accepting approach, we must acknowledge this historical perspective and work to change it. This includes bringing awareness to people who are part of the LGBTQIA+ community and empowering those supporting them by providing training on this topic.

Dis-Queer Support Group

Regional Resource Guide
of the Children and Youth with Special
Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency Dis-Queer Support Group

Agency Description: LGBTQIA+ individuals with disabilities often feel isolated from two communities at once. Organized in conjunction with accessABILITY, an Indianapolis-based nonprofit, Dis-Queer gives us an opportunity to socialize, educate ourselves on the issues that matter to us, and develop ourselves as self-advocates. Join us on the first Tuesday of every month as we get together and create community!

Everyone who 1) identifies as a member of the LGBTQIA+ community or is questioning their sexual orientation or gender identity, and 2) identifies as having a disability (including neurodivergent folks) is welcome to join! To provide a safe space, we ask that only those who identify with both categories sign up.

If you have any questions or accessibility needs, please email scampscomms@gmail.com.

Getthere Connection to Care

Regional Resource Guide
of the Children and Youth with Special
Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency Getthere Connection to Care

Agency Description: Connection to Care, or CTC, provides financial assistance to qualifying residents of Broome, Chenango, Delaware, Otsego, and Tioga counties for transportation to health-related services. A caring Getthere Call Center staff member conducts an intake to identify the transportation need and determine all possible transportation options. The call center staff member then works with the individual to develop and help finance a customized, cost-effective, and appropriate transportation solution. The individual in need helps to determine if and how much he or she can contribute to the cost of the transportation. Transportation services eligible for support from Connection to Care include: pre-paid fuel cards that can be used by the individual in need, or by a family member or friend who is providing the ride; public transportation fares; volunteer driver programs; and private transportation services, including cabs, medivans, or coach buses.

NYS Healthy Neighborhoods Program

Regional Resource Guide
of the Children and Youth with Special Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency NYS Healthy Neighborhoods Program

Agency Description: The New York State Healthy Neighborhoods Program (HNP) seeks to reduce the burden of housing related illness and injury through a holistic, healthy homes approach. The program provides in-home assessments and interventions for asthma, tobacco cessation, indoor air quality, lead, fire safety, and other environmental health hazards in selected communities throughout New York. The program targets housing in high-risk areas that are identified using housing, health, and socioeconomic indicators from census and surveillance data. The HNP uses a combination of door-to-door canvassing (roughly 67 percent of visits) and referrals (32 percent of visits) to reach residents in these high-risk areas. During a visit, the home is assessed for environmental health and safety issues

Buffalo Museum of Science

Regional Resource Guide
of the Children and Youth with Special
Health Care Needs (CYSHCN) Project

Agency Buffalo Museum of Science

Agency Description: Since 2010, the BMS has been on an aggressive path to renovate all of the museum's permanent exhibit experiences, transforming its former diorama-based exhibits into eight highly interactive and immersive science studio exhibit spaces. These studios and accompanying workshop spaces leverage collections pieces as a foundation of history and information, and then combine them with immersive exhibits and environments to create modern exhibition spaces. The Museum also added the Buffalo Museum of Science 3D Cinema.

In 2021, the Museum opened Western New York's newest early childhood sensory space with an Erie County twist – SensERIE! This new permanent exhibit gallery on the Museum's first floor offers three distinct Erie County-based environments – forest, city and an underwater scene – that encourage young explorers to learn and understand the world around them by using their senses of touch, sight,
