

Sunnyside Cemetery

Sunnyside Cemetery is located on the south side of Sunnyside Road, across from Lake Sunnyside, in the Town of Queensbury, Warren County, New York. It is close to the Rockwell Road site of the first Baptist Church in Queensbury. Also known as the Round Pond or Oneida Cemetery, it is one of the oldest burial grounds in the town. There are a number of field stones to be found, and it is likely that there are many unmarked graves. The stones have been read from the northeast corner, running north to south and then south to north, row by row. Reference has been made to an incomplete transcript of the inscriptions in this cemetery, made in 1934 and now found in the Warren County Historian's Office, New York State Library and other locations.
