Workplace Violence Prevention Plan and Program

Section 27-b of the New York State Labor Law requires public employers (other than schools covered under the school safety plan requirements of the education law) to perform a workplace violence evaluation or risk evaluation at each worksite and to develop and implement programs to prevent and minimize workplace violence caused by assaults and homicides. The Law is designed to ensure that the risk of workplace assaults and homicides are regularly evaluated by public employers and that a workplace violence protection program is implemented to prevent and minimize the hazard to public employees.

The workplace evaluations must identify factors which may place the workforce at risk to occupational assaults or homicides. The results of the evaluation and the risk factors found are to be shared with employees initially and annually thereafter.

I. Board of Supervisors Policy Statement:

Warren County is committed to providing a safe workplace for our employees. We recognize that workplace violence presents a serious occupation safety hazard for workers. Therefore, Warren County has developed and shall implement this workplace violence prevention plan and program.

II. Defining Workplace Violence:

- A. In accordance with Section 27-b of the New York State Labor Law and for the purpose of this workplace violence prevention plan, workplace violence is any physical assault, threatening behavior or verbal abuse occurring in the work setting within Warren County.

The workplace violence prevention plan has been developed to address three distinct types of Workplace Violence threats:

- Type 1 Threat: Physical assault, threatening behavior or verbal abuse by an assailant with no known legitimate relationship to the workplace who enters the workplace to commit a robbery or other criminal act.
- Type 2 Threat: Physical assault, threatening behavior or verbal abuse by a recipient of a service provided by the County.
- Type 3 Threat: Physical assault, threatening behavior or verbal abuse by a current or former worker, supervisor or manager, or another person who has some employment-related involvement with the County, such as a worker's spouse or lover, a worker's relative or friend or another person who has a dispute with one of our employees.

- B. Workplace violence may include threats in the following specific situations or when made in person, in writing, by telephone or electronic communication:
- Non-specific threats of violence by employee
 - Specific threats of violence by employee
 - Threats of violence directed against an employee by a non-employee

- Violent confrontation by a spouse or significant other with an employee over a personal/domestic dispute
- Threats or threatening conduct by disgruntled or ex-employees
- Violent altercations between two employees or employee and supervisor
- Multiple assaults by intruder

C. Typical warning signs of potentially violent individuals may include:

Experts in the mental health profession state that prior to engaging in acts of violence, troubled individuals often exhibit one or more of the following behaviors or signs: over-resentment, anger and hostility, extreme agitation; making ominous threats such as: "bad things will happen" to a particular person, or a catastrophic event will occur; sudden and significant decline in work performance, irresponsible, irrational, intimidating, aggressive or otherwise inappropriate behavior; reacting to questions with an antagonistic or overtly negative attitude; discussing weapons and their use, and/or brandishing weapons in the workplace; overreacting or reacting harshly to changes in County policies and procedures; personality conflicts with co-workers; obsession or preoccupation with a co-worker or supervisor; attempts to sabotage the work or equipment of a co-worker; blaming others for mistakes and circumstances; demonstrating a propensity to behave and react irrationally.

III. Workplace Violence Prevention Risk Evaluation:

Warren County has performed "risk evaluations" of certain the facilities identified in article V(f) as a means of inspection of workplaces to determine the presence of existing or potential hazards that might place employees at risk from physical assault, threatening behavior or verbal abuse. The County employed the following techniques in developing risk evaluations for the facilities where the evaluations have been concluded and will also use the same techniques where the evaluations have not been concluded:

- An examination of the history of past incidents to identify patterns or trends which occurred in each workplace;
- A review of occupational injury and illness logs (SH 900) and incident reports to identify injuries that may have resulted from workplace violence incidents;
- Conducting workplace building security surveys.

IV. Risk Factors Identified In Section III Above:

A review of the activities carried out at Warren County's facilities and by County employees, indicates that threats of violence may be initiated by any of the three types of individuals listed in item II. above. Many of the County's employees work closely with the public in situations at the following locations/worksites:

Employers are also required to report employee workplace violence related fatalities and multiple hospitalizations to the Department's Public Employee Safety and Health (PESH) Bureau within 8 hours of the incident.

(Refer to 12 NYCRR Part 801 for complete information pertaining to employee recordkeeping and PESH reporting requirements)

C. Employee Communication:

To properly maintain a safe, healthy and secure workplace the County is committed to having an open, two-way communication policy between all employees on all workplace safety, health and security issues. This communication is designed to encourage a continuous flow of safety and health information between management and employees without fear of reprisal and is readily understandable. This communication system will provide and accomplish the following:

- Procedures for protecting any employee who reports a threat from retaliation by the person making the threat.

D. Preventing Workplace Violence at worksites:

There is no single ingredient that will prevent or reduce violence in the workplace. Preventative measures must be based on a thorough understanding of risk factors associated with the various types of workplace violence that could occur. While understanding the factors that lead to workplace violence are not always evident, sufficient information is available which can reduce the risk. However, strong management commitment, and the day-to-day involvement of department managers, supervisors, employees and labor unions, is required to reduce the risk of workplace violence. To that end, the County will utilize the following measures in developing and maintaining its Workplace Violence Prevention Program:

- Foster a supportive harmonious work environment: Create a culture of mutual respect to help reduce harassment and hostility in the workplace. Management will strive to communicate openly, give employees adequate control in their work and provide them with support and recognition. Conflict and stress are lower when employees feel empowered to work independently and are motivated to work cooperatively.
- Train employees on how to resolve conflicts: Conflicts on the job can be reduced by developing employee skills in negotiating, communicating effectively, team building and resolving disputes.
- Develop effective policies to protect employees from harassment: Strive to build a culture free of harassment and discrimination and advance this goal by having systems in place to address infractions. Warren County will not tolerate physical assault, threatening behavior or verbal abuse. Further, all complaints will be expeditiously and thoroughly investigated. Appropriate action will be taken to those who violate this policy.
- Establish procedures for handling grievances: Employees will follow grievance procedures for reporting complaints of unfair treatment, discrimination or harassment.
- Provide personal counseling through an employee assistance program: Employees can use County resources to address personal concerns. If a physical assault, threatening behavior or verbal abuse incident occurs at work, support services can be made available by the County to help employees cope with their fears and concerns.
- Implement security programs that protect employees: The County has a variety of methods in-place to ensure worker safety. Such methods include: access control to facilities; employee background screening; and, employee safety awareness and training.
- Provide employee safety education programs: In addition to making workers aware of safety policies and employee support services, the County will provide education on ways to maximize safety at work.
- Train supervisory personnel on how to recognize signs of a troubled employee: The County will provide periodic information and/or training to managers and supervisors on how to recognize signs and symptoms of a potentially violent employee. Also, supervisory personnel can be instructed on how to be sensitive to signs of possible abuse among employees, such as frequent absences or depression.

E. Reporting Workplace Violence Incidents:

Any employee or representative thereof, who believes that a serious violation of the Workplace Violence Prevention Plan and Program has occurred or that an imminent danger exists, should bring such matter to the attention of a Supervisor or Department Head in the form of a written notice. The referral is not required where imminent danger or threat exist to the safety of a specific employee or to the general health of a specific patient and an employee reasonably believes in good faith that reporting to a Supervisor or Department Head would not result in corrective action. When a workplace violence incident results in a serious injury, emergency responders such as Police, Fire and/or Ambulance personnel will be promptly notified. Workplace violence incidents that include physical violence or the threat thereof the Warren County Sheriff's Department or State Police shall be notified. The County Administrator, Department Head and employee's supervisor will also be immediately notified. Based on the seriousness of the incident, the County Administrator may assemble a Workplace Violence Management Response Team which may include the County Attorney, law enforcement, Employee Assistance Program Coordinator, various Department Managers, representatives from the Employee Safety and Health Committee, Employee Union representatives and other others as deemed necessary. This team will evaluate the details of the violent incident, implement required employee safety measures, coordinate with the victim's family, other employees, the media and law enforcement personnel, and refer victims to appropriate assistance and community service programs that may include crisis counseling. If following a referral of such matter to the employee's supervisor's attention and after a reasonable opportunity to correct such activity, policy or practice the matter has not been resolved and the employee or representative of employees still believes that a violation of a workplace violence prevention program remains, or that an imminent danger exists, such employee or representative employees may request an inspection by giving notice to the New York State Commissioner of Labor of such violation or danger. Such notice and request shall be in writing, shall set forth with reasonable particularity the grounds for the notice, shall be signed by such employee or representative of employees, and a copy shall be provided by the New York State Commissioner of Labor to the employer or the person in charge no later than the time of inspection, except that on the request of the person giving such notice, such person's name and the names of the individual employees or representative employees shall be withheld. Such inspection shall be made forthwith.

F. County Worksite Security:

The County primarily provides services to County residents and visitors and its worksites must remain accessible to its clients as necessary. Therefore there is no intention to fortify facilities. The County will provide training to all employees as the primary means of reducing workplace violence. The County will utilize barriers, controlled entries, etc. where such are necessary. In addition, the following physical security measures are also employed at the various facilities as appropriate:

- Maintain exterior lighting, especially in areas where employees walk to their cars.

It includes, but is not limited to, beating, stabbing, shooting, rape, psychological trauma such as threats, obscene phone calls, an intimidating presence, and harassment of any nature such as stalking, shouting or swearing.
